PROFESIONAL PROFILE

Full Stack Web Developer and Illustrator with a degree in Architecture, focused on creating functional and visually appealing digital solutions. I'm passionate about combining design and development to build meaningful, user-centered experiences.

Trained in technologies like React, Node.js, Express, and SQL, I work confidently across both frontend and backend. I value clean, maintainable code—especially in collaborative environments. My background in architecture brings a strong structural and aesthetic perspective that I apply to every digital project.
